Saint Lucia

St Lucia lived in Syracuse, Italy and was only 21 years old when she lost her life during the persecution of Christians in the early fourth century, St Lucia is recognised for her courage in defense of her faith. She is venerated as a saint by the Roman Catholic Church and is one of eight women, who along with the Blessed Virgin Mary, are commemorated by name in the Canon of the Mass.

Lucia, whose name means “light” is the patron saint of the blind. In paintings, she is often depicted with a golden plate holding her eyes and a palm branch, which is a symbol of victory over evil.

“Those whose hearts are pure are temples of the Holy Spirit”
